Understanding of the World

Next week we will be thinking about how people celebrate Christmas.

Expressive Arts and Design

The children will have the opportunity to access Christmas related activities on the craft shelf.

Maths

Next week in maths we will be recapping the number work we have focussed on this half term. This will include recognising written numerals to 10, 1:1 counting, comparing quantities and whole-part models

Communication and Language

Next week we will be making melting snowmen biscuits. We will practice good listening and how to follow a set of instructions.

Literacy

Next week the children will be regrouped into their new RWI groups, ready for January. You will see their progress on Evidence Me.

Personal, Social and Emotional Development

Next week, we will be having a special visitor pop in! But shhhhhh, this is a surprise for the children!
